TEAM BUILDING, TRAINING & KEYNOTES

TEAM BUILDING

It's never been more important to stay connected and show appreciation for your team than it is right now. "Here's to YOU!" is a great way to do both. Say thank you to your team for all their hard work by giving them a fun and engaging break from all the work they're doing!

This fast-paced virtual challenge combines quick thinking, a little strategy planning and creativity, while uniting team members as they work toward a common goal. Your success as a team will translate into dollars loaned to an entrepreneur from an underprivileged region of the world through our partnership with Kiva.

This program is based on Scott Kress' real life ascent of Mount Everest, and in it, your team will follow along and make crucial decisions along the way. The story is inspiring and engaging, and the team learning is directly applicable to helping teams communicate, collaborate and make decisions on a virtual and live environment.

It is 10 am on a mid-August day and your plane has just crash-landed in the middle of the desert. You and your fellow passengers are unharmed, however, getting out of this situation in one piece is going to require some quick thinking and even more importantly- you must all work together to come up with a solution. Is your team up to it?

We've all been there...virtual work or meetings where concentration and focus fades as the day goes on. You want your team to be engaged, focused, and in a learning mindset - so shake up their day with a completely different on-line experience. Boost engagement and energy, exercise their brains and take a break from the normal routine.

The Strength Deployment Inventory (SDI®) goes beyond measuring personality and explores the motivations and values that support the behaviours we choose. Identifying what drives us is tremendously helpful - particularly when it feels like people are crashing into each other, rather than driving organizational results.

TRAINING WORKSHOPS

Do you have differences that split your team? Do you find that you communicate really easily with some people and have to make a real effort with others? We all have different personality types that create these situations. Understanding your personal type and the types of others is critical in driving effective interpersonal interactions.

Much of a person's success is based on their ability to be in touch with, monitor and effectively manage their responses to a variety of interpersonal interactions. Understanding where we have healthy, under-functioning or even over-functioning qualities in various EI scales is the first step in becoming more effective in the roles we play both professionally and personally.

Do you have a newly-formed team, experienced a big change or are you a team that is simply looking for a tune up? This workshop will engage your team through interactive presentations and discussions. Your team will build stronger relationships and learn the critical elements of development: collaboration, problem solving, group decision making, trust, and communication.

KEYNOTES

Scott Kress is a masterful storyteller, a leadership trainer, an Executive MBA Professor and a life-long mountaineer. He is the 51st Canadian to summit Mount Everest and the 18th Canadian to climb the 7 Summits. In this engaging keynote, Scott will share the insights he has gained having led high altitude expeditions for over 25 years.

As Scott Kress was trekking 1000km across Antarctica to the South Pole, he was thinking "this is pretty outrageous". In this engaging and insightful presentation, you will learn all about trekking to the South Pole, but more importantly the 7 lessons that Scott used to achieve this outrageous feat. These lessons can apply to any individual on a team trying to achieve a big goal and perform at their peak.

Take either one of Scott's two keynotes and turn it into an interactive workshop with breakout group discussions, deeper learning discussions and the development of personal action plans. An excellent way to further the applicability of Scott's impactful keynotes for your own team!
